

Special Event Coverage

Life celebrations are a time to reflect accomplishments, retirements, birthdays, and unity. What comes with these milestones are gatherings, weddings, and parties. All of these festivities could create an exposure for the individual hosting the event. Most of us have heard a story of a great party that ended badly for those involved. We can't change it if an unforeseen event takes place, but we are able to provide coverage for these unfortunate accidents.

Coverage is provided in all of these areas:

- Liquor Liability
- Property damage to the Venue
- Lost Deposits
- Damaged Gifts
- Severe Weather
- Ruined Photos

Renters' Insurance

Why do I need renters insurance?

Renters insurance provides you coverage for your personal property. The policy also provides liability coverage, including attorney costs if you're legally responsible. Policies typically pay to replace your property in your home or apartment if you have a loss, as well as additional living expense coverage such as staying in a hotel while your home is uninhabitable. A renters' policies can cost as little as $200 depending on what coverages are important to you, and many times can give you a discount on your auto insurance!

Apples to Apples

Potential clients often ask us to quote their policies the same way they're currently covered. Although this can be beneficial to the client in understanding cost between different companies, it is always best to have a quote prepared with the proper coverages and rating information. We understand that insurance can be costly in many cases and a savings may be vital. When shopping your insurance, it's crucial for your agent to explain to you what you are covered for and the limits that are associated with potential losses. Nobody wants to pay out of pocket for a loss that wasn't covered because they tried saving money on a less-than-perfect insurance policy. At the Pardee's Agency, we are fortunate to represent over 17 different carriers for your insurance needs. Call us today to review your insurance policies.
